ES-SYSTEM

VERSO-S SIGN

Self-contained emergency exit luminaire for surface ceiling mounting

Description

A luminaire designed for emergency exit lighting in accordance with the EN 1838 and EN 50172 standards. The product is designed for surface ceiling mounting and in accordance with the EN 60598-2-22 standard.

Various signs are available as accessories. See accessories for more detailed information.

A discreet look that fits into any interior design. Available in standard and High Output version. All variants are also available in an addressable version with DALI protocol - a global communication for lighting control and monitoring. See our Ethernet2Dali lighting control system for more information.

Technical specifications

Body material and colour

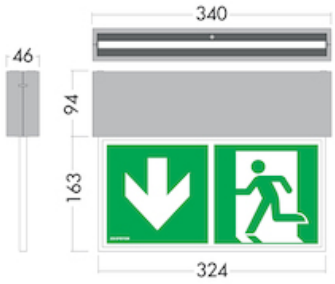

Housing made of self-extinguishing plastic that withstands a flammability test in 850°C.

Emergency system

Available as standard (S) for manual testing, self-test (ST) for automatic testing or addressable (DALI) system for automatic testing, monitoring and report generation. All self contained emergency systems are available for 1 or 3 hours duration. A version for Central battery supply (Z) is also available.

The Company reserves the right to change any product specifications without prior notification.

Illustrations

Images

The Company reserves the right to change any product specifications without prior notification.